TU-DOC Office: Mission

Orientation – Standardized Counseling on ‚getting started!‘

- Delay of your own qualification is a common / default phenomenon
- TU-DOC offers a limited number of counseling appointments
- We will talk about aspects of your qualification
 - Time management, milestones, self efficacy
 - Spending times abroad, writing excercises, career orientation
 - Competences and skills, courses, methods of reflecting
 - Outputs beyond a dissertation – presentations, networks, publications
- And make plans for realistic implementation
 - Step by step approaches
 - Using peer feedback

Orientation – peer intervision in success teams

- What is peer intervision?
 - Self organized, long term oriented, small groups
 - Clear methodology of organized peer feedback
- What does TU-DOC have to do with this?
 - Organize new groups and manage interested candidates
 - Joint kick-off session
 - Tracking of the groups, possible incentives
- What should we avoid?
 - You are not friends, but solidarity is a prerequisite
 - Groups can easily be too small or too big

Financial Support for the doctorate

- ▼ Temporary Employment
- ▼ Scholarships
- ▼ Degree completion grants
- ▼ Studentische Darlehenskasse Berlin (student loan service)
- ▼ DFG-Research Grants

Temporary Employment

Temporary employment for doctoral work is funded either directly by the Technische Universität Berlin or through externally funded projects.

TU positions are generally full-time for the duration of five years. According to the Berlin State Law for Higher Education at least one third should be spent on individual research (i.e. the dissertation). Furthermore, those positions include teaching duties of 4 hours per week.
